Michael Gomez takes over Campus Police Chief duties

by Owen Sheeran

For Michael A. Gomez sociology and police work go hand in hand. Gomez was appointed as the new Chief of Campus Police to fill the vacancy left by Walt Kadyk. Gomez, who has been with the Cal State Campus Police since August 1973, was second-in-command under Kadyk. John Pfau and Dean of Students Kenton Monroe.

"Basically our job as Campus Police is to protect life and property on campus", said Gomez. "The job requires a great degree of community service. Our officers are more committed to the college community because we are responsible to the students. I'm a senior majoring in sociology and several of the other officers are also students."

The staff consists of 8 sworn peace officers including Gomez, 2 parking officers, security officer and a clerical secretary. Service is provided on a 24 hour a day, 7 day a week basis. "We strive toward good community relations with a great degree of professionalism. We are here to serve the students and the college."

Recently the parking lot west of the Biological Sciences building has been closed to student parking. Asked why this policy had changed, Gomez said, "we had a lot of problems in this area. It was really a question of safety and it was becoming a traffic hazard. Since school has started we've eliminated the traffic and the arguments over parking spaces. The Academic Senate came up with the solution and I see it as a good program. We use a warning system to the students who park there so they are not being given tickets. There are signs at the entrance to the lot and if a problem arises we will enforce the regulation. I think we all face parking problems, myself included."

The Cal State Campus Police are also continuing to sponsor the Ride-Along Program where students may ride along with one of the officers on his rounds. "All students are welcome anytime," said Gomez. "It gives the students a chance to meet us and see what we do. I hope in the near future we will be meeting everyone."

Prior to coming to Cal State in 1973 Gomez worked with the Colton Police Department as an identification training officer and also as a patrolman with the Chino Police Department. "You name it and I've done it," said Gomez referring to his various jobs in the juvenile division and as a plain clothesman with the Colton Police Department.

Asked what he feels about his new job Gomez replied, "my feelings are very positive and good. The students here at Cal State are all cooperative and responsible. The Campus Police do not have to be oppressive to be effective. By discussing and working out any problem a student might have we can help eliminate that problem."

Other staff members include: Art Butler, Dick Faustini, Rich Nunez, Don Schafer, Pam Zmolek, Mike Frick, Roy Truelsen, Fred Dixon, Dennis Bigham, Larry Huizar, and secretary Janice Williams.

Cal-State art students redecorate D.M.V. office

Are you sometimes completely bored standing in line at the Department of Motor Vehicles? Well now, there's something to do! Colorful murals depicting transportation development in San Bernardino will attract your eyes to the past, present and future of transportation in the San Bernardino area.

The artists of the murals are Joseph Moran, assistant professor at Cal State, San Bernardino; Dan Vasquez of Bloomington, Juan Esqueda, Peter Rodriguez and Nick Bashaw of San Bernardino, Cal State art majors; and Shirley Bowers of Pomona, a Cal State graduate in humanities.

The colorful paintings are part of a statewide DMV project to make the field offices an integral part of the community served and to reflect the culture of the area.

The murals are alike in the use of brilliant color but differ markedly in their approach to the unifying theme of transportation. One painting is a future concept of the daily movement of city living; another a long narrow panel, approaches the subject with a lower-half view of bus patrons waiting on benches at the 4th and E Streets terminal.

On the west wall, white figures against a background of desert and mountains reflect the timelessness of the theme. Another mural contrasts the gentle burro in the desert with lines of freeway roads converging in the distance.

The artists began planning the paintings last May. As individuals they took photographs and made sketches, and then met as a group to discuss and develop ideas.

Moran, who supervised the local project, has taught art at Cal State since 1972. He earned his master of fine arts at Claremont Graduate School and recently has worked with the state coalition of Chicano artists.

All of the Cal State students have exhibited their work in the area.

Vasquez, a graduate of Colton High School, is currently employed at the Witterman Steel Mill in Fontana. He plans to be a professional artist when he completes his education and has shown his work in the governor's exhibit in Sacramento, the Vincent Price Gallery in East Los Angeles, and the Los Angeles Municipal Art Gallery.

Esqueda is currently employed by General Telephone Company. The senior art major plans to teach art and has also exhibited at the Vincent Price Gallery and the Los Angeles Museum.

Rodriguez plans graduate work in ceramics and has exhibited in the Los Angeles, Hollywood, Riverside and San Bernardino areas.

Bashaw, staff artist at the San Bernardino public library, plans to work in interior design and building space.

Bowers is a fashion illustrator for Miller's Outpost.

The murals will be unveiled at a public reception at the Department of Motor Vehicles office, corner of Waterman and 13th, from 2-4 p.m., Sunday, October 5.

From the Editor's desk

Come join the Paw Print staff

At the beginning of every quarter we make an appeal for help. This quarter will be no exception.

The Weekly PawPrint is one of the most unique college newspapers around because it is a total student effort.

More student participation is necessary in order for us to continue to publish a relevant professional style newspaper.

Unfortunately we can offer no monetary reward for your efforts but you may be eligible for two units of academic credit.

Other more intangible benefits include working together with some great people and being able to list extra-curricular activities on your future employment applications.

Reporters are usually the one breed of vertical bipeds we always come up short on. Everyday there are many interesting and important events happening on this campus that should be covered.

We also need the other kind of reporter, the person in this category is not a regular contributor, but someone who chances upon a newsworthy event. We like to feel that our readers are part of the paper and if they witness something that could be of interest to others in the college community, they should let us know so we can spread the word around. It's kind of like your a nerve ending.

Also urgently needed is a display advertising salesperson. If you are the aggressive, super salesperson type, and looking for a few extra bucks to make ends meet we offer a great commission on every ad you sell.

So if you have been thinking of writing for your student newspaper there will never be a better time to get started.

Come on over to our office in the Physical Science building and we'll tell you all you need to know in order to become a PawPrint staffer.

Student government needs support

Student Government needs the support of every student.

ASB positions and offices are filled by students. Taking responsibility in the Associate Student government adds diversity to one's education and allows individuals to prepare for quandary situations that they may face later in their lives.

In order to make Cal-State a better place for everyone, many more students must get involved in Student Government. Last year many offices and committee seats were vacant due to student apathy. Hopefully this trend will end this quarter.

Student Government is a great place to make many new friends and learn about the functions of Government.

At the present time there are several ASB, class and committee positions unfilled. All of the Junior Class offices are vacant at the present time.

Anyone wishing to be considered for any of these positions should contact ASB president Raul Ceja or any of the other ASB officers in the ASB trailer, which is located behind the Student Services building.

Registration systems in need of overhaul

In spite of many complaints, circulated petitions and outright protests, the unfair registration process still exists.

The present system divides all students into priority groups. These groups are rotated each quarter so that a different group has the top priority time each term.

This present plan sounds like it should be fair for everyone but upon closer analysis it appears very unjust to persons who only need a few units to graduate.

Graduating seniors who need less than 30 units to graduate usually are granted a first day priority number. However this does not necessarily mean that they will get the first hour on the first day of registration. They could be stuck with the last hour on the first day when many classes are already closed and there is a long waiting list to get into a popular class. This creates an undue hardship on a graduating senior who needs a particular class in order to graduate that quarter.

A much more fair registration process would be a priority system based on the number of units a person has completed. Incoming freshmen would be the last persons to register, while seniors who only need a couple of units to graduate would be first in line.

Cal State used to have a registration system of this nature but the powers that be scrapped it in favor of the present system.

With the evidence piling up that the present system is just not working satisfactory for a large number of students, one must wonder why it is still in existence. Well one simple reason seems to be economic in nature. It has been found that lower division students usually enroll in more units than upper division students. Incoming freshmen tend to take overloads in order to get out of Cal-State sooner. Since the amount of state funds received by the college is based on the total number of units that all students are enrolled in, the present registration system was implemented to give freshmen the opportunity to enroll in lots of units and consequently increasing the number of bucks the college receives from the governor's office.

At other schools such as the University of California at Santa Barbara students receive their classes by mail. Fullerton State University uses computers to process students during the registration process and at both of these institutions, graduating seniors are given first choice in the selection of classes.

There are other more valid ways to entice students to take more units so that the college can continue to receive lots of bucks. Classes could be made more interesting by the addition of more interesting subject matter. Additional electives could be added that students would want to take, not just because they have a good priority number.

If you agree that the registration system needs to be revised, contact the PawPrint office and we'll work on this together.

Veterans Club News

by Ray Sansing,
Vice President,
Veterans Club

Well, Congratulations to us! As you can see, the Cal State Vets Club has weathered the summer to return in all its radiant glory, to dive once more into the fray. It would be less than truthful of us to deny at least a little surprise at the Phoenix-like resurrection of the Veterans Club from its summer torpor. In fact, if you read the registration edition of the Pawprint, you will have noticed that not even the paper thought the Vets Club had made it, we weren't even listed with other clubs — shame on you, Pawprint!

For those of you new to glorious Cal State San Berdoo, the Cal State Vets Club was born in the dying days of the Spring Quarter 1975, the last in a series of efforts to organize a veteran's club on this campus. Unlike the earlier attempts, this one succeeded, although survival always was, and still is, in doubt. Week by week the Vets Club has struggled on, bloodied by battle, losing many and winning a few. Looking back on the victories now, the progress attained seems miraculous; notification of summer benefits to all Cal State veterans (so they could receive benefits for the whole summer), an emergency loan fund for summer tuition (partially repaid already), a continuing emergency loan fund for veterans (thanks to Hank White, the deciding goals, government, and veterans coordinator), the even-goodies. All veterans are invited to tual inclusion of more 2½ unit come (it's our club), and classes on this campus, and other remember, even though the beginnings for which we can be veterans make up one third of the proud. However, all that is history, students on this campus, unless we and any resurrected club should go stand up for ourselves, there will on to bigger and better things, and be nobody to help us, and even boy do we have some in store. But joined together it is going to be first, this thing has got to get rough. So come and participate, organized, and so on Monday, 13 maybe get a fat juicy elected October, at 2 p.m. in LC 211 the position to look good on your Vets Club will hold its first record, and at least help stand up meeting, for the purpose of for your rights.

Our College Plan.[®] $1 a month buys all the bank you need.

Bank of America College Plan is a complete banking package just for students. It's simple, convenient, economical and includes everything you're likely to need. Here's what makes it so useful:

1. The College Plan Checking Account.

Unlimited checkwriting for just $1 a month. With no minimum balance required. And no service charge at all for June, July, August, or for any month a balance of $300 or more is maintained. You get a statement every month. And the account stays open through the summer even with a zero balance, saving you the trouble of having to close it in June and reopen it in the fall.

2. Personalized Checks.

Yours inexpensively. Scenic or other style checks for a little more.

3. BankAmericard.[®]

For students of sophomore standing or higher, who qualify, the College Plan can also include BankAmericard. It's good for tuition at most state schools, check-cashing identification and all types of purchases. Parental guarantee is not required. And conservative credit limits help you start building a good credit history.

4. Overdraft Protection.

Our Instant Cash helps you avoid bounced checks, by covering all your checks up to the limit of your available BankAmericard credit.

5. Educational Loans.

A Bank of America specialty. Complete details are available from any of our Student Loan Offices.

6. Savings Accounts.

Lots of plans to choose from, all providing easy ways to save up for holidays and vacations.

7. Student Representatives.

Usually students or recent graduates themselves, our Reps are located at all our major college offices and offer individual help with any student banking or financial problems.

Now that you know what's included, why not drop by one of our college offices, meet your Student Rep, and get in on our College Plan. $1 a month buys all the bank you need.

Depend on us. More California college students do.

Cal-State houses many strange animals

by Frank Sheeran

Unless you're a Biology or Psychology major you may not be aware that Cal State maintains an animal house on campus. But before you inquire about accommodations or kennel services read on. According to Dr. Dalton Harrington, Chairman of the Biology Dept., the compound has raised the interests of USDA officials who have commented on the modern facility and its layout. Such attention also has a very practical aspect. Federal and state regulations govern the humane treatment of the animals and the USDA regularly visits the facility to insure that certain standards are maintained. A license to retain the animal house is dependent upon adherence to these regulations. Laws also extend into the laboratory where experiments are conducted on the animals. Experimentation is governed by prescribed amounts of anesthesia administered to the lab animals and monitored by a visiting veterinarian.

Animals are principally obtained through laboratory supply houses. Dr. Harrington pointed out that economics is the chief factor for buying the lab animals. Rising food costs have made it less expensive to purchase the animals rather than to maintain a supply through the summer for fall courses. However, some breeding does occur among selected pairs of mice to provide specimens for study. After mating the pair is separated to discourage an overabundance of the "beasties". Wild animals are prohibited in the compound. A parasite problem presents a very real danger to the animals housed there.

Used primarily by the Biology Dept. (the Psychology Dept. also has a section for its use) the compound has both invertebrate and small vertebrate specimens. The invertebrate collection, under the care of Dr. Alexander Sokoloff, includes a well known beetle collection for which Dr. Sokoloff receives requests from other institutions for genetic stock. The vertebrate section consists principally of smaller warm-blooded animals (rabbits, rats, and mice) although tortises and frogs are also kept.

Currently a committee is working to achieve accreditation from the AM. Assoc. for Accreditation of Laboratory Animal Care Acceptance from the AALAC could mean increased grant sources from the National Institute of Health and the U.S. Health Service, as well as the constant attendance of a veterinarian in the compound.

Cal-State students may soon be able to purchase beer on campus

by John Whitehair

The Board of Trustees of the California State Colleges and Universities passed a measure last spring permitting the sale of beer on campus.

The President of each college or University must approve the selling of beer on his respective campus and C.S.C.S.B. president John Pfau favors the measure.

The issue almost died in January of last year and was revived by Governor Brown who convinced the Board that individual presidents should have the final say so.

Beer has been served at various campus functions for several years now but only under very strict regulations which prohibit any kind of monetary payment.

Under the new regulations students and faculty will be able to purchase beer on campus.

Before the first quarter can be paid for the first glass of suds, certain steps will have to be taken.

First a place will have to be found to sell beer. Cal-State does not have a student union yet so temporary facilities may be set up in the Commons.

A license for sale of beer will have to be obtained from the Alcohol Beverage Control Board and arrangements for verification of the age of potential customers must be initiated.

President Pfau does not foresee any problems with the proposed sale of beer and indicated he would oppose the sale of beer if there were any potential problems.

San Jose State University was the first cappus of the C.S.U.C. system to sell beer.

On September 8 the Spartan Pub in the San Jose Student Union started selling seven types of beer. The president of S.J.S.U., John Bunzel, bought the first glass.

Drama rehearsals underway

By Owen Sheeran

Rehearsals are now under way for the Players of the Pear Gardens' fall production, Oliver Hailey's "For The Use of The Hall". The show will open Thursday, November 13 for eight performances through November 22. Dr. Amanda Sue Rudisill is directing and John Finn is stage manager.

"For The Use of The Hall" is a comedy set in the winter of 1975 and concerns the plight of Charlotte and Allen, two middle aged lovers; Martin, a very bad playwright; Terry, a nun; Alice, a children's book writer and old Bess, a faithful observer.

Hailey, who has also written four other plays on and off Broadway, visited Cal State during the first reading of the play and plans to return for the performance. "For The Use of The Hall" was seen on national TV several months ago.

The cast includes Deborah Stevens, Johnny Pipkin, Paul DeMeo, Ann Baden, Robin Girffis and Keri Grunest.

Dr. Rudisill has been at Cal State since 1969. Asked how she views the new Creative Arts Building now being built she said, "we just can't wait." The new theatre will only seat 150 people but "we will be much more flexible in some respects", she added. "The Little Theatre was originally a chemistry lab and was never meant to be a theatre. It's extremely limited but in our new theatre we won't have any problems.

The new Theatre Arts Building is now due to open the winter quarter of 1977.

Senate meeting highlights

by John Whitehair

The Cal-State Student Senate met for the second time this year last Wednesday and the members present took action on various matters of concern involving student activities.

Among other matters, the Senate approved a request from the sports committee for $225. The money will be used to hire a work study student to work in the gym so that the hours of operation may be extended. This measure was approved by the Senate and sent to the Appropriations Committee.

A new policy of charging a fee for ski rental was requested by the Sports committee and approved by the Senate. A flat one dollar charge per each day of use will now be collected by the Physical Education department. All funds collected will go toward the repair and maintenance of the skis.

Judy Bain was appointed president protem of the senate. The president protem is in charge of the senate meetings in the absence of the ASB Vice President who is president of the senate.

Denise Dorm submitted a request for $625 for the Activities committee to hold a dance and bar-b-que on Friday, Oct. 10. The money will be used to hire a band and pay the other necessary costs of the dance. Ms. Dorm indicated that one dollar will be charged for admission, with all profits from the dance going back to the ASB. The request was given "emergency action status" which means the funds will be available right away so that a contract with the band may be signed.

Chief Justice of the Judicial Board, Dave Fowler, submitted a request for travel funds. Mr. Fowler wants to travel to some of the other campuses of the State College system to observe their Student Judicial Boards. Mr. Fowler explained to the Senate that he needs this information in order to get the Cal-State Judicial Board operating and the best way to gather the information is by observing other Judicial Boards in action. The request was sent to the Appropriations committee for the necessary action.

Richard Bennecke, Student Senate advisor, told the Senators present that they may gain as much as 15 thousand dollars in additional student body fees this quarter because of increased college enrollment.

The next meeting of the Student Senate will be held on Wednesday, October 8 at 10 a.m. in room SS 117. All Cal-State students are invited to attend.

A.S.B. President Raul Ceja, outlines goals

By John Whitehair

When the dust had settled after the ASB elections last spring, Raul Ceja was the winner of the hotly contested battle. It was no easy task for him, it took two elections and even after all the votes were counted and showed Ceja the victor, there was talk of a possible third contest.

A third election was not necessary and Ceja assumed the office of ASB president early last June.

Ceja has a lot of praise for the people who helped him get elected, he believes their hard work and his personal type campaign won the election for him. In an interview Raul said, "The students saw all those people out working for my election and realized I wasn't a bad guy and voted for me."

Ceja wants more activities planned that will appeal to a larger majority of the student population. He feels that too much of the limited activities budget is spent on a small portion of the students. "I would like to see more students participating in campus activities. It seems in the past that the activities were planned for a small minority — I would like to have activities appealing to a wider range of students."

Ceja is in favor of the proposed on campus sale of beer, but he realizes before the first mug of suds can be poured, many problems will have to be solved. "It is my understanding that the ASB cannot obtain a license to sell beer if any of the elected officers are under 21 years of age. Also we will have to find a place to sell it as the building of the Student Union is still pretty far off."

Ceja feels that it is important for him to travel to other colleges and to the state capitol to lobby for such things as an increased Student Union fee. "I will be doing some traveling, but only what the ASB can afford. There is a bill being considered that will enable the construction of the Student Union to proceed and I feel my traveling to lobby for the measure is important," he said.

Ceja would like to see more students get involved with student government and activities. He believes that the best way for a student to learn more about the workings of Student Government and the ASB is to talk to the people currently serving in an office. "Let them know that you want to get involved and most likely you will be appointed to one of the vacancies," he stated.

Ceja will maintain an "Open Door" policy whereby students should feel free to come by and discuss matters of concern at any time without an appointment. He would prefer to respond to the needs of the campus community as a whole, however he is concerned with the welfare of each individual student.

Ceja summed up his hopes for the coming year in the following words: "I would like to welcome back all the returning students and I would like to extend a welcome to the freshmen and those students who have transferred from another college. Students should take advantage of those activities they are paying for, such as the Health Center services, Physical Education programs, Learning Lab and other activities that are being offered to them and paid for by ASB funds."

"If any student ever feels that he or she has a gripe or complaint and needs to talk to someone about it, come and see me personally or any of the following other ASB officers": Pat Egeter, ASB Vice-President; Pat Motiz, ASB Secretary; Steven Waterbury, Senior Class President; Paul Martinez, Sophomore Class President. Ceja added, "These students represent the students on campus. Seek their advice and tell them your opinions."

Ceja feels that this year will be a very good one for the students of Cal-State, and he will be looking forward to meeting personally with as many students as he can.

Student Government positions available

There are many unfilled Student Government positions and offices that must be filled for CSCSB Student Government to be effective.

Most of the positions will be filled by appointment. Interested students are urged to contact the ASB office at 887-7494.

In the Executive Cabinet the position of Treasurer and Judicial Representative is opened.

Many class offices are vacant this year and include the following: Senior Class Secretary and Treasurer.

Junior Class President, Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer and two Senators.

Sophomore Class Secretary, Treasurer and one Senator.

The Activities Committee needs a Chairman, a Secretary and a Treasurer.

Six positions are available on the very important elections Committee.

Tom Hayden talks at S.B.V.C.

by John Whitehair

Tom Hayden, campaigning for the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate, spoke to a noontime gathering of students and teachers at San Bernardino Valley College on September 24.

He was introduced as the co-founder of the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), former anti-war activist, husband of Jane Fonda and as a concerned tax payer.

Hayden, who is challenging incumbent Senator John Tunney, outlined his proposed program for economic recovery, energy independence, busting of large corporations, tax relief for the working class and accused Senator John Tunney of accepting campaign contributions from the oil industries.

On economic recovery Hayden said, "We need public participation in economic planning, which includes consumers, workers, managers and technicians, in setting our overall priorities and the use of our resources."

Hayden said that the recent utility rate increase that will help Atlantic Richfield explore for offshore natural gas in Alaska is one of the biggest rip-offs of the California people in all history. He noted that the oil companies all turned gigantic profits last year and these profits should go to exploration and new research, not to dividends to stock holders.

Hayden wants a national energy policy which is not controlled by vast corporate monopolies. "These giants escalate their profits and their stranglehold on our natural resources, while the energy consuming public is overcharged and undersupplied," he said. The Senate hopeful added, "The time has come to insist that the multinational oil companies bow before the needs of public consumption, rather than narrow corporate profit."

Candidate Hayden accused Tunney of accepting campaign contributions from Atlantic Richfield and supporting the move to decontrol oil prices that will hurt consumers while creating larger profits for the oil giants.

Hayden also accused Tunney of accepting campaign money from Gallo Wine Company, major saving and loan organizations and from Defense corporations.

Hayden wants to generate a great public debate on ways to bring the big banks and corporations to public accountability. "Congress should begin hearings, as thoroughgoing and open as the Watergate hearings, on alternatives to private economic monopoly."

Hayden told the crowd estimated at under 500 that his chances of winning are better now than last spring because Tunney has recently dropped in the opinion polls while Hayden has gained.

All students new and old to the Cal State P.E. Department. The opportunity is yours this fall to shift into gear, full speed ahead, and engage all that energy in those numerous activities (besides those worth class units) set up for you by the intramural section of the P.E. Department.

The aim of the CSCSB Intramural Program is to provide an opportunity for each member of the College to participate in his or her favorite recreation-oriented activity. A comprehensive schedule of events is planned each year, ranging from team sport competition to informal participation by both groups and individuals. New activities are added each year by the staff; often the result of requests by interested students.

Sign-ups are "now" down at the gym on the bulletin board across from the equipment room.

REHAPS FROM 1974

There were numerous bodies active in the intramural program last year.

Reputable jocks worth mentioning here were the following:

Flag Football Follies 1974

For Flag Football 1974 it was a "New-World Football League" at Cal State. The NWFL entered such famous world known teams as Los Carnales, Mickey Mouse Club, Barking Spiders, Pollacks, and the Loose Ends. The NWFL Super Bowl was held at Cal State on Friday, December 13, 4 p.m. - 1974 with the opposing teams of the Barking Spiders vs. the Los Carnales. The Barking Spiders emerged victorious by a score of 24-14. Such memorable players, never to be forgotten, were the scoring leaders. These All American NWFL jocks included Jim Cassidy from the Mickey Mouse Club with a high total of 43 points; J. C. Wright from the Los Carnales with 34 points; Dave Hirsch from the Barking Spiders with 30 points; Steve Deeever from the Los Carnales with 27 points; and Rick Plein from the Barking Spiders with 24 points.

Rumor has it at Cal State that many of these athletes will be returning after three months of summer training and are looking for new teammates this fall. If your interest is centered around fun, in the sun, rain, or on the grass or on your nose, run right now down to the gym and sign up for the 6-person Flag Football. Sign-ups are now until October 8. Season opens October 10. Be There.

Handling the Handball Singles 1974

Last year's handball pros entered in double-elimination tournaments, with each match consisting of two out of three games to 21 points. Contestants involved in this activity were Mike Romo, Gary Majinski, Bernie Moyeda and Tony Leogrande, with Bernie Moyeda ending up as the Cal State Champion. These matches were played each Wednesday at 12 noon. The 1975 Handball Singles begin October 16. Sign-ups are going on now until October 15.

Bringing on More Badminton

CSCAB intramural co-ed badminton doubles were a success last year and are well on the way there this year.

Sports personality profile

This is Richard's fourth year at Cal State, he is majoring in Humanities and is presently student teaching fourth grade level children at Arrowhead Elementary School.

Richard has lived in the dorms for three years and is a House Resource Person for the men's dorm. Today.

He has actively participated in the intramural program for two years, playing football on various teams including the famous Los Carnales team, who in 1974 won the all league championships.

This year Richard plans to play again for Los Carnales, and some of this team members are, Raul Ceja, who will be paying center, two top defensive line men, Ton Tipley, and Bob Riley.

Richard has also played two years of intramural volleyball, for the Los Pistos team, who won the league championships in 1972.

Richard's basic philosophy concerning physical education is that he enjoys the competition of playing a sport, he appreciates the togetherness of fellow team-mates all working towards one goal, and also the new friends that he meets. His favorite sports are football and basketball.

Commenting on the Intramural Program, Richard said that he did not expect six-man football this year, he was hoping for seven or eight man teams. He believes that it is easier and more interesting to play with more people, however his enthusiasm will keep him participating.

Richard also stated that he really appreciates the physical education facilities and enjoys the friendly atmosphere of the staff. They have been more than helpful

"It would benefit the players," he stated, "is there were more spectators at the games." He believes the games are exciting and always fun and he knows that the players enjoy a crowd to keep them going.

to all students, and he hopes this will not change.

Richard also would definitely like to see more female participation, and he said that a women's league for sports activities would be nice if enough women jocks could be found at Cal State.

Richard's team is already to go this quarter, and they plan to take the championship this year, he only hopes that he will have some competition.

If you know of any other outstanding sports personalities, please contact Joe Long in the Physical Education department.

Last year's doubles consisted of students and faculty, such as Cathy Jackson, Chris Grenfell, Helga Wright, Mike Saenz, Elaine Ant-flick, Raul Ceja, Mary Eater and Karen Smith. The doubles play-offs were held between Mike Saenz and Helga Wright vs. Chris Grenfell and Kathy Jackson, with Chris and Kathy taking victory in the finals. Last year's teams played one match with different opponents every week. The match consisted of three out of 5 games to 15 points, and playing times were arranged by the players.

Rumor Has It

Rumor has it that Dr. Ackerman and Dr. Blackey will play on anyone's team this year for a 6-pack. Anyone interested in using them for Cheerleaders (uniforms may be checked out in the equipment room), or other miscellaneous projects (water boy, sweat rag carrier), should contact them in their offices before someone else does. Rumor also has it that J.C. has shaved and bathed. Come down to the P.E. Department to find out.

Last but most important of all, Rumor would like to have news of the Lost Marching CSCSB Kazoo Band. Members of this band have been scattered over the summer and we haven't heard of any practices yet. If you have any information leading to this, please contact Candy in the Cafeteria.

Karate is a popular sport.

Co-ed Softball

As World Series time approaches, softball fever at Cal State reaches its peak.

In response to underwhelming requests by participants in last year's program, softball is now offered as a part of the Fall Intramural program.

Ernie "The Mad Bomber" Fischer, where are you? Monte Pearson, please submit your roster! Dave Kovitz, you no longer have to play one on one softball with Mike Blind! Where have you gone, Luke Nobile? Korn, Linda, Peggy, Nagel, Allo Bros., Diaz Bros., Dave Forlwer, PawPrint, Newman Club, Alpha Kappa Psi, Hordynski, Ted & Cindy, Jim Cassidy, Jan Mitchell, Mecha, Fran, Blackey Stein, Ackerman, B. Barnes, Gregg Miller, Pollacks, Headhunters and the team.....

What, in the name of Larson E. Whipsnade, is happening? Games are scheduled to begin on Monday, October 13, so sign up now. For those who care, games will be played even if the Player's Union does vote to strike!

All free agents report to the field at 3:30 p.m. on Monday, October 13. Softball Uber Alles!

Escape '75, '76 returns with new outdoor outings

Many new and diverse activities are planned for the "Escape 75-76" Outdoor leisure program, available once again during the fall quarter for Cal-State students and their friends.

"Escape 75-76", which is jointly sponsored by the Cal-State Activities office and the Physical Education department, offers students the opportunity to learn about and discover California's vast outdoors.

This year the programs will be planned for individuals with experience in outdoor activities, as well as for beginners.

An attempt will be made to create an informal atmosphere which will enable students to make new acquaintances, exchange ideas, and develop personal awareness.

The objective is freedom, freedom to do, to see, to wonder, and freedom to create.

The outing leaders are volunteers and fees are charged to cover only costs of transportation, food and special equipment.

The best way to become familiar with the program is to go on an outing and participate.

Suggestions for future outings from students are encouraged and the facilities and equipment are available to all students, and all students are invited to come along and "escape".

General Information

— Transportation arrangements for each outing will be the responsibility of the individuals signing up for the trips. However, whenever possible, an effort will be made to form carpools.

— Several outings will require a pre-trip meeting. Interested persons will be notified about such a meeting when they sign up for the outing.

— Priority will be given to students of Cal State. Faculty and staff personnel will be permitted to participate if there is space available.

— All outings are on a first come, first serve basis.

— All costs for an outing must be paid by the reservation deadline. No refunds will be given after the reservation deadline.

Fishing poles, camping stoves, backpacking stoves, backpacking tents, lanterns, and backpacks will be available for use from the P.E. equipment room.

Overweight people program

PROGRAM FOR OVERWEIGHT PEOPLE

The Student Health Center and the Counseling Center are coordinating efforts to offer a program for weight reduction. The emphasis of the program is on learning to reduce sensibly and then to maintain weight loss. Participants will learn to change eating habits, cut caloric intake and increase activity level.

The program is designed for those who are 10 or more pounds overweight. The following is a guide which shows what your optimum weight should be depending upon your body build — small, medium or large boned:

| REFERENCE GUIDE FOR WEIGHT CONTROL | | | |
|------------------------------------|-----------------|------------------|-----------------|
| MALE | | FEMALE | |
| Height in inches | Median++ Weight | Height in inches | Median++ Weight |

Photographic distillation on display in Art Gallery

"Next Door, Down the Road, Around the Corner," a photographic distillation of a young man's journey through America, is now on display in the Cal State, San Bernardino Library.

The exhibition of photographs by Richard Balzer is being circulated by the Smithsonian Institution.

Also on display is "San Bernardino Valley, 1810-1911," an exhibit of books, labels, photos and postcards from the Library's collection of historical materials.

Both will be on the first floor of the Library through Oct. 23.

Balzer's photographs were taken over a period of 18 months, when he wandered through city streets and the rural countryside all over the nation, covering 50,000 miles.

He went to public events and private celebrations, homes and bars, schools and factories, stores and museums and spent a lot of time meeting people and trying to get to know them.

The photographs which make up the exhibition were selected from the book of the same title, recently published by Doubleday and Company.

Library hours are 8 a.m. to 10 p.m., Monday through Thursday; 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Friday; noon to 4 p.m., Saturday and 12:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. Sunday.

Bits & Pieces

Elementary volunteer tutors needed

There is a need for volunteer tutors for elementary age students. The tutors will be working in an established program with the Boys' Club of San Bernardino.

Students interested in the program should contact Mr. Walter Hawkins, Director of E.O.P. Supportive Services in SS-174 or call 887-7395.

Two day chess tournament planned

A two-day chess tournament will be held at California State College, San Bernardino Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 11 and 12.

High-rated players from other Southern California communities will join Cal State students and local residents in competing for the trophies and 21 cash prizes totaling $1005. First prize is $150.

Co-sponsored by Cal State's Woodpushers Anonymous and the San Bernardino Chess Club, the tournament is open to any member of the U.S. Chess Federation. Registration will begin at 8:30 a.m. in the lower Commons, with play continuing into the evening.

The entry fee is $20 if paid at the door and $17 if sent in advance to the San Bernardino Chess Club, P.O. Box 6023, San Bernardino, 92412. For players under 18, the rate is $15 at the door and $12, advance fee.

Tournament director is Mike Grotke, president of the San Bernardino Chess Club.

Woodpushers Anonymous president is Linda Grotke, a graduate student in the Cal State School of Administration. The college club meets at 7 p.m. each Thursday in the Student Services building and is open for participation by members of the community as well as students.

Flu shots available to students

All interested students, faculty and staff may obtain flu shots at the Student Health Center (AD-117) throughout the months of October-December at the following times:

Wednesday - 2-6 p.m.

Friday - 2-6 p.m.

Additional hours may be added at a later date.

Faculty and staff will be charged $1.00 payable at the Bursar's Office before coming to the Health Center. Students receive this protection for free.

Influenza protection is especially urged for those with chronic illness (especially heart or lung disease) and those particularly susceptible to respiratory infections.

Library opens south entrance

As an experiment during Fall Quarter, the South Entrance (nearest the main parking lot) to the Library will be open weekdays from 8am to 5pm. Over the years there has been much interest expressed in having the South Entrance opened but personnel shortages in the Library have prevented this. This Fall enough personnel will be available to staff the South Entrance from 8am - 5pm on weekdays.

As always, the North Entrance will be open whenever the Library is open.

Book fines are now payable at library

Donald E. Saponetti, Cal-State Accounting Officer has announced that all library fines will be collected at the Circulation desk in the library. The fines had been payable at the Bursar's office in the Administration building. The change in place of payment was made for the convenience of the Cal-State students.

Because of rising postage costs, the Office of Admissions and Records will no longer mail notifications of student assignments. Students may pick them up in the Records office during normal business hours. Students are urged to check the information and request changes of wrong information.

V.A.O. News

The Veterans Affairs Office will extend its office hours to serve evening veterans this year.

An office is maintained in the Library, room 226 from 5 to 8:30 p.m. Monday thru Thursday.

The VAO's regular office in the Student Services building will serve day veterans. Its office hours are 9 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 to 4:30 p.m., Monday thru Friday.

Public law 93-579 entitled "The Privacy Act of 1974" went into effect last September. This new law prohibits the Veterans Affairs Office from disclosing any information about a person on the phone or giving any information to anyone about a veteran. This law now requires all business to be conducted on a person to person basis in the office.

The Veterans Affairs Office would like to remind all new veterans taking Physical Education courses that the college only allows a total of 12 units of P.E. to count toward a degree. Thus, any more than 12 units in P.E. from CSCSB will not be recognized by the VA.

Many Veterans Benefits Available

It is becoming clear to the Veterans Affairs Office that many veterans on this campus are not aware of the many Veteran Benefits available.

Complete information on all veteran programs is available at the Veterans Affairs Office.
